Hello guys and gals. First of all..thanks for this English section for us English only folks. I came across this product line and was quite impressed with it's naturalness. The minoxidil one confused me though. Anyway, I saw on the website that those involved with this and another site are responsible for bringing the Prokeratin product line to fruition, so I thought this would be a great place to get some feedback.

So...how is the stuff? Even if you don't have a hair-growing story, how do they leave your hair? I was actually searching for styling aids with hair-promoting ingredients when I came across Prokeratin..so am interested in feedback on that as well(the serum, I think).

Also, am I correct in saying these products are more for "inhibiting" rather than growth promotion? I realize "inhibiting" can create growth, but ingredients such as procyanidins are actually growth promoters. I honestly haven't looked into all the ingredients yet.

Thanks
