Dear Customer

By now, if you have read previous newsletters you will know we are in the process of closing down our business operations by the year end. In light of this, we will not be reordering any products which we sell out of, except by special order, in which case a customer would need to purchase a minimum quantity of 5 units per product, applicable to orders of European or North American sourced medicines only.

Furthermore, since we have received many, many emails from worried customers we can let everyone know that, where possible, we will offer guidance on possible channels where some (by no means all) of our products can be purchased in future.

For everything else, we recommend customers begin investigating alternative suppliers of their medicines now rather than waiting until it is too late.

Regards

Elitenetpharmacy
