Hello

Thank you for your online credit card order.

Our credit card processors Nubrain, based in the USA require a form to be signed by our customers confirming that they agree for Nubrain to charge their credit card. One will be sent to you in the post today.

Although we may have a previous Indemnity & Disclaimer form on file for you, we do require the new form to be signed before any future orders can be processed.

We apologise for the inconvenience.

Be well
