Hi everyone,

I will be direct with this: I wanted to know what some of the recommended hair transplantation clinics are in Germany (or near Germany). On a lot of the English-speaking websites they pretty well say there are only like five good clinics in the world, and that in Germany there aren't any decent ones.

Is this true? And what are the more commonly recommended clinics on this forum?

Also, regarding price I've found there to be such a huge variation. I recently asked on and was told €3 Euro's per graft (FUE), then another wanted €7, plus 13% on the total! I did notice Turkey are really cheap, and I have seen some results from a particular surgeon there who appeared to perform very good work for cheap. Does anyone have experience with a hair transplant over there?
