In the 'old' days, about 12 years ago there was a lot of discussion about FUE vs FUT.

FUE would produce less yield, lower quality grafts, donor problems....
Some found it impossible to use FUE on curly hair, on gray hairs ...

At Prohairclinic we saw these 'problems' as a challenge.

We used different techniques, instruments ...

We also tried motorized versions of FUE.

However, after many many years of experience performing FUE on a daily basis we found that Manual extractions are still by far the state of the art.

Please have a look at the extractions process, the fine handling, the precision scoring the grafts ...
