Ein User hatte wohl ein Gespräch mit der Tipse von Paul.W

I spoke with Dr. Washenik's secretary recently about the FDA trials. She was happy to tell me what information she could. She said that the trial is a fairly big trial, one completely bald area on the scalp is being treated. She "couldn't comment" on whether or not Aderans was using the bioabsorbable scaffolds for holding cultured cells. She said they hope to have data back before the end of 09. She also said that everyone is hoping it goes really well (this is it boys), ICX has nothing, Aderans would of bought or teamed up with ICX if they did, but the TRC procedure is flawed since it is only using DP cells. ARI has been at it for a long time folks and they have the dream team of scientists on their side. If it doesn't happen from ARI or stem from their findings or a discovery, I don't think anything will happen for another 10-15 years.

Please leave some feed back, I find Washenik's secretary very nice and easy to talk to. I don't bug her often but if any good questions arise (thanks spanish dude) I will ask next time.

Wenn ich es wäre, hätte ich kein problem damit es zuzugeben.. aber wenn es dich glücklich macht, dann glaub es ruhig..
